AEIOU Foundation Workshop: For parents, educators, and health professionals

Supporting children with autism and their challenging behaviours & How the NDIS is funding early intervention

Tuesday 22 August

10.00am - 11.30am & 5.30pm - 7.00pm

Verco Hall, Minda

12 - 16 King George Ave, North Brighton

Do you want to better understand and support children with autism?
Would you like information on how to deal with challenging behaviours?
Are you informed on how the National Disability Insurance Scheme can fund early intervention programs?

Join AEIOU Foundation for a free workshop which will help you gain an understanding of the functions of behaviour and learn tips and techniques to assist with challenging behaviours.

This event is suitable for any person supporting young children with an autism diagnosis in a home, educational or healthcare setting.

Information about how AEIOU Foundation's program can be funded through the NDIS will also be provided.

Registration

Registration is essential to ensure ample space and catering. Please confirm the session you would like to attend by contacting AEIOU Adelaide Service Manager Karen Piscopo on 8187 2777 or email huntfieldheights@aeiou.org.au.

AEIOU Foundation is a leading provider of early intervention for young children with autism aged 2-6. AEIOU utilises evidence-based practices and a manualised curriculum to deliver therapy, education and care in a naturalistic setting.

Meet our Presenters

Kate Sheales is AEIOU Foundation's Senior Occupational Therapist. With over five years of autism-specific experience, Kate specialises in mealtimes, toilet training and behaviour.

Kate is driven to provide training and support to therapists at AEIOU Foundation and within the broader community and implement intervention based on the science of behaviour analysis and provide education on the fantastic and effective outcomes this approach facilitates.

Kate has commenced post-graduate studies in Applied Behaviour Analysis through the Florida Institute of Technology and aims to achieve a Master of Education in Applied Behaviour Analysis at Monash University.

Katrina Ives is AEIOU Foundation's NDIS specialist, supporting families who have a young child with autism to navigate the Scheme and access funding for reasonable and necessary supports.

Katrina has been part of AEIOU's team since 2010 in a similar capacity, assisting and advocating for families prior to and during their enrolment in the Foundation's early intervention service.

With a background in finance and the NGO sector, Katrina is able to provide practical, caring advice during the early years of an autism diagnosis.
