

Making the move from school to work.

Not sure what's next? We've got you!

If you have a disability, injury or health condition, and want support to prepare for finding and keeping a job, gforce is here to help.

We help young people who are still at school, leaving early or finishing school this year move from school into training, work, or other pathways.

As the only youth-focused employment provider in the region, gforce supports you through:

Inclusive Employment Australia program

This program helps young people aged 15 - 25 living with a disability find meaningful, long-term work. You'll get positive coaching, mentoring and support every step of the way.

Supports can include:

- Setting goals and staying motivated through our Coaching Young People for Success program
- Help with job searching, writing a resume and preparing for interviews
- Access to further training or education
- Building work-ready skills like getting licences and understanding workplace expectations
- Connections to programs and other supports
- Introductions to employers who are hiring
- Support to start a school-based apprenticeship or work placement
- Ongoing support once you start a job
- Access to the Employment Assistance Fund.

NDIS Employment Supports

If you are aged 17 - 34 and have NDIS funding, gforce can help you build the skills and confidence you need to get a job. We focus on your goals, your strengths and the skills you want to develop. Everyone's journey is different, so your support will be tailored to you.

Supports can include:

- Goal setting and motivational coaching
- Activities (individual or group) to build communication and social skills
- Work experience or volunteering to build confidence and real-world knowledge
- Learning life skills that help you succeed at work
- Job search support, job design, on-the-job help and workplace adjustments
- Ongoing support once you start work
- Help transitioning into the Inclusive Employment Australia program if that's the next step.

Your goals. Your pace. Your future.

You'll work 1:1 with a gforce Consultant to set your own goals, build your skills and gain confidence. We're here to make your move from school into work as smooth as possible.
