St. Peter's Anglican Church News

St Peter's Anglican Church, Hill Street, is holding its Christmas service, to celebrate God's free gift of Salvation, for everyone who believes, through Jesus Christ born of the blessed Virgin Mary, on Sunday 21st December at 6:00pm. Please bring a plate of Christmas goodies to share along with tea and coffee that is provided.

As there will be no Christmas service at St Patrick's Catholic Church, a warm invitation is extended to all to share the Christmas message at St Peter's.

A new initiative to offer joyful peace and tranquility every weekday from 7:45am to approximately 8:15am, for the start of your day is being offered at St Peter's which will be open for quiet reflection and morning prayer with daily readings.

We are also hoping to introduce a monthly midweek, family breakfast, Morning Prayer, starting next month, to continue through the warmer months of next year, to connect to God, to help deepen your search for meaning, purpose and a sense of belonging into the community.

Courses and Reflection Days and Healing services shall also be offered next year, to deepen understanding of God's relationship with us. Flyers shall be distributed to advertise upcoming events.

Peace be with you all.

Earthwatch with Galileo

From The Conversation: on a map of the world the sub-continent of India spans roughly 3.2 million square kilometres – an area larger than that burned in wildfires across the globe in the past year alone.

Scientists from around the world worked together to find out if the devastation was due to climate change, using satellite and computer models – and in this landmark study the answer is: Yes.

It's still not too late – we need stronger and faster climate action to cut fossil fuel emissions, protect nature and reduce land clearing; let's hope the COP30 summit in Brazil results in real, positive, urgent attention to this threat to our common home – the most serious of housing crises... Ciao for now...

Ben Chifley Catchment Group News

"Caring for our Waterways"

BEN CHIFLEY CATCHMENT GROUP

The Ben Chifley Catchment Steering Committee Inc. was established in the mid-1990s, by several land care groups. Our aim is "Caring for our Waterways." The group undertakes activities that improve the quality of water in the Catchment area. Projects include soil conservation measures and tree plantings. If you have any projects on your property such as gully fencing, soil erosion remediation or tree planting please contact Louise, the BCCSC Secretary, on 0407 214 508. Projects need to be inspected before approval.

Rockley Gardens & Art Festival

Well, that's a wrap for the 2025 RROCKLEY GARDENS AND ART FESTIVAL! While there can always be more visitors, it was an enjoyable weekend, with the gardens looking spectacular and the weather actually being mainly in our favour! - except for wind making it near impossible to cover and decorate outdoor dining tables and a short burst of rain and hail.

The Festival was opened at the Art Exhibition in the School of Arts Hall by our mayor, Robert (Stumpy) Taylor on the Friday night with the display well received and complemented all round.

The exhibition is unusual in that the artists showing their work are predominately local, with those that aren't having at least a long association with Rockley, through work, friendships, or frequent visitation. Many exhibitions of this sort are usually open to artists from an open geographical area, but Rockley shows the growing amazing quality and diversity of work of its own people - remarkable in a village with such a small population

A number of artists made some excellent sales, with funds raised going toward the restoration of the historic building.

If you are a local and have never visited the Festival, perhaps next year with new Gardens and an extra art show will be your turn as your involvement promotes and supports the small but active village of Rockley.

The Peoples' Choice Award this year was won (twice!!!) by local artist Tanya Connor - 2 of her 3 pastel works received equal votes from visitors to the exhibition - but sadly for Tanya, she only gets one prize money !

If you have any comments or suggestions on the Art Exhibition, or the Festival in general, please let me know.

Also, if you feel you would be a great addition and help to the very small organising committee, please be in touch.

Many thanks to everyone who attended or helped in any way.

Greek Short Bread Biscuits - Kourabiedes

from Eli Giannopoulos, www.mygreekdish.com

I've made these biscuits many times. They are usually made for Greek weddings and baptisms, but I think they are special enough to serve at Christmas.

Ingredients

250g butter	½ tsp vanilla paste
150g blanched almonds	1 tbsp baking powder
50g blanched almonds	A pinch of salt
75g icing sugar	400g plain flour
1 tbsp rose water or brandy	Extra icing sugar for dusting

Method

*To roast the first lot of almonds – 150g – put blanched almonds in a dry frypan on medium high heat and shake the pan until they are golden brown. Roasting happens quickly once they reach temperature so don't walk away and leave them.

*The second lot of blanched almonds – 50g - needs to be powdered in a blender.

*In a food processor, add the cold butter and sugar; mix for about 10 seconds. Add the powdered almonds, a pinch of salt, rosewater or brandy, and the vanilla paste; mix 10 – 20 seconds, until combined. Add the baking powder and flour and mix again for 10 – 15 seconds.

*Place the mixture in a large bowl.

*Roughly chop the roasted almonds and when they are cold incorporate them into the mixture with your hands quickly trying not to allow the butter in the mixture to become warm. (Put the mixture in the fridge while you preheat the oven and line the trays with baking paper.

*Preheat the oven to 170 C fan or 350 F

*For each biscuit take about a tablespoon of mixture and form it into a crescent shape. Continue to make enough for two trays.

*Bake for approximately 15 – 20 minutes, until they have a golden tint and are cooked through.

Don't lift them off the baking tray until cooled or they may break.

*Once cool drench them in icing sugar and store in an airtight container.
