About the Summit

Date: Nov 2020    Location: Global Online    Cost: Free

The Design Your Career Youth Summit is a unique online conference exclusively dedicated to helping young people prepare for and navigate the increasingly competitive & volatile world of work.

30+ leaders from education, business and innovation will discuss how employment & work is being transformed by technology, globalization and COVID19 – and share practical, real-world education & career advice to help participants launch and sustain meaningful & financially rewarding careers.

Summit Background and Mission

Multiple studies forecast that 50% of today's jobs will disappear, and few of the jobs that remain will be permanent as more and more work moves to project-based delivery.

At the same time, the digital economy is projected to unlock an additional $100 Trillion for those who can continuously learn, design and re-design their careers to seize these opportunities.

At first, we wanted to help our own kids prepare for these new challenges and opportunities – and then our school, parent and business networks exploded with interest. We decided to create a platform to bring together the latest thinking from the worlds of education & work to help get all kids proactively on the path to designing their careers.

We passionately believe that with the right skills and mindsets every young person can carve out a successful niche for themselves in the digital economy. More importantly, the world needs the coming generation to be able to work together to find and create the solutions to our biggest social, economic and environmental challenges.
