

You can use the Clusters to help students explore alternative options for university courses. This is particularly useful if you have students who are keen to attend university and have an area they are interested in, but are not sure about which degree path to choose, OR if you have students looking for a path that works well for their Cluster.

Within each suggested degree, students will have the opportunity to specialise in areas of interest down the track, which means they can 'lean in' to their Cluster in a way that suits them.

Some of the paths are ones you would not typically associate with that Cluster, but they share similar ways of working and should suit students who are determined to go into that specific subject area.
