

Alphabeasts: an A to Z of alphabetical animals by Maree Coote

Call number: 421 COO

Review by Jayden Zeng (46V)

“A brand new collection of typographic delights from this award-winning illustrator. Each picture is created with the letters that spell each animal’s name. The exact fonts used are provided in a key on each page to make it easier to hunt and find all the letters that spell each animal portrait.”

What was your favourite part? Why?

My favourite part was the drawings formed up to animals. It’s my favourite because it is creative, eye catching and amazing.

Did you enjoy the book? Are there any parts you would change to make the story better?

To make the story better is by making more words and pages into the book because the more long the more fun.

Were there any parts that made you laugh or be scared?

No but there were some cool things in it.

Would you recommend the book to a friend?

I would recommend it to my little brother because he might think it’s cool and draw like that (he draws too much among us).

Final summary

This book was an interesting one. It used letters to make up animals from A to Z. The author was very creative too but not much words and story though.

4.5 stars out of 5