

The Three Little Pigs

Once upon a time there were three little pigs who decided to leave their mother's house and build their own. They said goodbye to their mum and went off to get materials for their house.

The first pig's house was made out of bookshelves.

The second pig's house was made out of paper.

Next there lived a wolf in the best house made out of metal in the forest. He was also their grandmother.

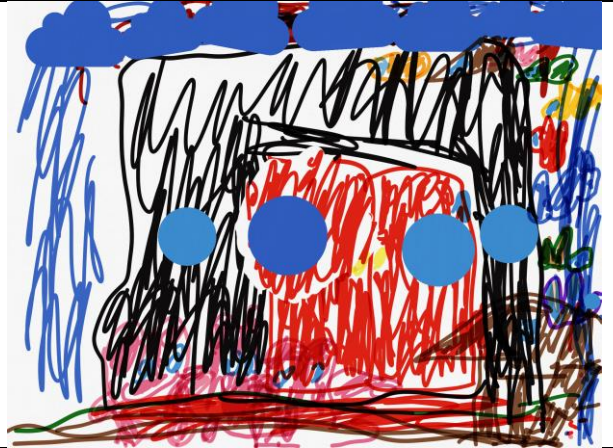

The third little pig's house was made out of lights.

The three little pigs rode a horse to the wolf's house. They huffed and they puffed, and they blew the wolf's metal house down.

The wolf rode his purple motorbike to his brick house with a moat around it with lava in it.

The horse tripped over a log and fell into the lava moat. The three little pigs hopped off the horse in time.

There was a storm which blew down some trees and the three little pigs decided to make a house out of them.

The three little pigs decided not to annoy the wolf again.
