

The Children's University program is transforming the way young learners engage with education, offering students an exciting opportunity to explore learning beyond the walls of their classrooms.

Aimed at fostering curiosity, self-confidence, and a love for lifelong learning, this program empowers children to take charge of their education by participating in diverse extracurricular activities.

This year at Lyndhurst we enrolled 35 students from years four and five to be a part of the The Children's University Primary school program. Today I'd like to share with you some of the wonderful achievements and learning opportunities students participated in.

Of the 35 students who participated this year, 24 attended a graduation ceremony at Swinburne University Hawthorn campus on the 28th of November.
