University of Canberra Making Stories with More-than-humans

9 December

Do writers write in isolation? No! We write as entities in unique webs of connection. Writing with and about more-than-humans is legitimate and urgent work in an age of species extinction and climate destruction. This workshop acknowledges the weight of the stories we create, including stories of celebration, remembrance, and mourning.

Storytelling occurs in many ways and includes orality/aurality, art, writing, and performance.

Please bring your own writing/art supplies. Photographs of your more-than-human companions are most welcome!

C.A.S. Hawker Scholarship

Opens 4 December

The scholarship normally covers the full cost of residential fees for a period of up to three years. The average figure is $60,000 over three years.

Selection is based on personal qualities as well as academic ability. Successful applicants are capable of demonstrating their potential as a future leader and the contribution they have made to their school and wider community. Preference is given to applicants aspiring to a career in public affairs, politics and / or community service. Students from regional areas are encouraged to apply.

University of Newcastle ATAR Info Day 2023

14 December

The University of Newcastle is hosting ATAR Info Day

Join us on campus at our ATAR Info Day to get all your questions answered to kick start your uni journey!

If you have questions about studying in 2024 or didn't quite get the marks you need, our ATAR Info Day is a chance to chat with our admissions and pathways teams to help you understand your adjusted ATAR and entry options.

Bring your mates and grab a free bite to eat, relax with some live music and talk to our team about degrees, changing preferences and alternative entry options.

You'll also have the chance to take a tour of our beautiful campuses and chat with current students to find out what uni is really like.

Our info sessions are held on the day that ATARs are released and prior to the close of change of preferences for consideration in the December Round 2 (15 December), so it's perfect timing to get the advice you need to finalise your UAC application.

There's a place for you at the University of Newcastle. We can't wait to see you in 2024!

Degree Costs Fee Structure and Loans

There are countless things to think about when you start sorting through your study options: the course you want to do and where you want to do it, just to name a couple. But what about the cost of your course? In the same way as it is helpful to understand the structure of your program and its graduate opportunities, it also helps to know exactly where you stand on the costs front. The cost of your education and how you pay for it vary depending on a few factors, which will be explained below.

A guide on changing preferences for Australian universities

If you didn't have your head on straight while choosing your uni preferences, we've got good news – it's ok to change your mind, and it could mean finding your perfect degree. Have a question about changing preferences that an internet search won't solve? Here, we hash out in-depth information on ATARs and receiving and deferring offers. So, why would you want to change your preferences?

Why choose a Double Degrees?

If you're looking at courses, you've probably heard of double degrees and know (roughly) what they involve. But why would you choose one? Find out three of the most common reasons. Some universities offer their own combinations; others may allow you to choose a combination of your choice. Keep in mind, too, that double degrees are not just the domain of undergraduate study.

Reminder – NSW Health Aboriginal Nursing and Midwifery Cadetship program

Applications Open 11 December

The NSW Aboriginal Nursing and Midwifery Cadetship Program provides support and assistance to Aboriginal people studying an undergraduate nursing or midwifery degree at university. Cadetships include:

- a study allowance of $600 per fortnight while studying for 40 weeks
- $500 per semester support allowance
- 12 weeks paid employment in a local public hospital or Justice Health facility
- support from an Aboriginal mentor, cadet coordinator and additional clinical support.
- the possibility of ongoing employment when you successfully complete your studies and the program

Connection to culture is central to the health and well-being of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples. Care and cultural understanding from an Aboriginal nurse or midwife allow patients to feel safer and advocated for when away from family and community. Cadetships are available to support your dream of giving back to your community. They offer financial support, work placements and mentoring exposing you to the diverse possibilities of nursing and midwifery. They are a chance to focus on your studies, experience the workforce and build relationships.

Bond University Centrescreen | Student Film Showcase

7 December

You're invited to the grand premiere of our 2023 graduate films at Bond University's Centrescreen.

Centrescreen is a night of excitement and pride. On this night, graduating Bachelor of Film and Television students showcase their artistic and creative talents to industry professionals and the public and are awarded for their hard work.

Whether you are family, friend, film student, media teacher or just a lover of film, we encourage you to join us on campus Thursday, 7 December at 5pm to enjoy and celebrate the skill, talent and dedication of our Film & Television graduates at this free public event.

Our Young Technologists Scholars get up to three years of financial support for their studies, networking opportunities, mentoring programs and paid internships with senior business leaders and industry-based experts as well as the chance to develop critical soft skills through the Disruptive Leaders Program. The program includes five days in Asia as part of an international learning experience to broaden minds and inspire new ways of thinking. Scholars must be intending to commence a STEM related degree at one of our five partner universities across Australia, though you do not need to have received a formal offer at the time of your application.

Explore career options within the aerospace, aviation and Defence industry at Albion Park on the first 'official' day of Airshows Downunder Shellharbour

Airshows Downunder Shellharbour wants to inspire younger Australians to consider careers in the aviation industry. The Careers Day showcases a broad range of aviation career insights including being an engineer, working at an airport, flying drones and UAVs, being an air traffic controller, being a pilot, working in Defence, developing cutting edge industry technologies and much much more.

The Careers Day will serve a dual function for students attending, either by inspiring career choices or confirming career direction through access to industry professionals and aviation career advisors

Students will have the opportunity to:

- Interact with current industry professionals
- Discover and explore career opportunities
- Be informed and inspired
