Apprenticeships & Traineeships

Apprenticeships and Traineeships - FAQ's

Australian Apprenticeships (often referred to as Apprenticeships or Traineeships) are a great way to earn an income while learning new skills. They are available to anyone of working age, enabling you to combine work with study. There are over 500 different occupations. As an Australian Apprentice you can:

- Earn an income while you study
- Gain hands-on work experience
- Get a nationally recognised qualification that is held in high regard in many overseas countries
- Be debt free (no HECS-HELP or FEE-HELP debt).

You can even begin your Australian Apprenticeship while you're still at school, through an Australian School-based Apprenticeship. Click here for the answers to the following questions:

- What is an Australian Apprenticeship?
- What are the benefits of apprenticeships or traineeships?
- How much does it pay?

Take a gap year - what does that really mean?

Canadians Carol Langlois and Becky Mulholland both career practitioners, share their new vision of 'The Gap Year'. They bring up some interesting points that are well worth reading about. It is written from a Canadian standpoint but the points discussed are just as relevant for Australian's young people. They discuss:

- The gap year concept is overdue for a cultural reset
- For many families, college is the most expensive decision they'll ever make.
- For many parents, the phrase "gap year" still stirs anxiety
- The value of intentional pauses
- Gap years can foster self-discovery, emotional growth and direction

Values can help career decision making

Our 'values' shape the career choices we make, but what exactly are values and how can you identify the values that are important to you and that will positively impact your career? Below are some values that may influence your career choices. Ask yourself which of the following values are important to you and are there any you want to add:

- Adventurous: To be adventurous - to actively seek, create, or explore novel or stimulating experiences
- Assertiveness: To respectfully stand up for my rights and request what I want
- Authenticness: To be authentic, genuine, real, be true to myself
- Caring: To be caring towards myself, others, the environment
- Challenging: To keep challenging myself to grow, learn, improve
- Cooperative: To be cooperative and collaborative with others
- Creativeness: To be creative or innovative
- Curiousness: To be curious, open-minded and interested; to explore and discover
- Fairness: To be fair to myself and others
- Humorous: To see and appreciate the funny side of life
- Independence: To be self-supportive, and choose my own way of doing things
- Open-mindedness: To see things through or from other's points of view, and weigh evidence fairly
- Power: To strongly influence or wield authority over others, e.g. taking charge, leading, organising
- Respectfulness: To be respectful towards myself or others; to be polite and show positive regard for others

- Self-development: To keep growing, advancing or improving in knowledge, skills, character, or life experience
- Supportiveness: To be supportive, helpful, encouraging and available to myself or others
- Trustfulness: To be trustworthy; to be loyal, faithful, sincere and reliable

Work experience - find the right fit

Doing work experience is one of the best ways to learn a lot about the world of work and the different jobs that will build your skills. If you want work experience that gives you information about how you can build a rewarding career in a particular role, you can:

- Visit an employer's premises or work site for a workplace tour. Check with your school or approach an employer directly.
- Attend career talks by employers and workers. Look for industry networking events online or talk to employers at career or jobs expos.
- Interview an expert. Talk to someone working in your industry or job of choice to find out about their pathway and what the job is really like.

Agriculture and environmental studies careers

There is more to agriculture than just working on the land. While farming is a big part of the industry, careers in agriculture can branch out to food processing, aquaculture and forestry and horticultural operations. Becoming an agricultural or forestry scientist is also a potential career path for those who want to combine research with a passion for the environment, while entrepreneurs may be drawn to the possibilities in agribusiness. This industry also requires workers from areas that you wouldn't immediately correlate with agriculture – think sales executives, logistics experts and product managers. Students can access their learning account in the Student Portal, via the myQCE website.

QTAC FAQs

Q Will I get an offer for all the courses I applied for through QTAC?

A No. You will only receive one offer for your highest eligible preference course that you are competitive for. Therefore, it is essential to order your courses according to your preference, putting the course you most want first and having a 'safety net' course as your 6th option.

Q Will I get a letter in the mail from QTAC with my offer?

A No. If you have an offer, QTAC will notify you by email or SMS. You need to sign into your application on the QTAC website for details of your offer and to respond to your offer. Because there are numerous offer-round dates (see Course offer dates), you must check your emails regularly (including your Junk folder).

Q Is there anything I can do if I don't respond to an offer by the due date?

A Yes. Contact QTAC immediately. QTAC may be able to reinstate your offer.

Q What happens after I have accepted an offer of a course place?

A You enrol at your institution by the due date. Most institutions will have an 'Enrol here' link on the QTAC website. If there's no enrolment link, your university will contact you directly.

Q I have applied for courses that start in Semester One and Semester Two 2026 on my QTAC application. Is this OK?

A Yes, if the Semester One courses are listed before the Semester Two courses. However, a better strategy is to put only Semester One courses on your application in the first instance. After the major offer-round for Semester One courses in January 2026, you can put Semester Two courses on your application if you have not received your preferred offer.

Q What should I do if I don't get an offer?

A First check your application on the QTAC website. You may be ineligible for the courses you applied for. This will be indicated on the Preferences page of your application beside each course preference.

Reasons for not receiving an offer may include:

- Quota restrictions (that is, your ATAR/rank did not meet the minimum threshold)
- Failure to satisfy minimum entry requirements (prerequisite subjects, audition, etc.)
- Failure to pay QTAC processing/application fee
- Preferencing your courses incorrectly (e.g. putting semester two courses before semester one courses; not including a 'good' pathways option for your 5th and 6th preferences)
- Applying after the due date for the offer-round
- Not submitting required documents
- Not responding to an earlier offer.

If you don't get an offer and none of the above points apply, contact QTAC immediately.

Q What do I have to do when I receive an offer?

A You must respond to QTAC by the due date. You usually have four days to respond. If you don't respond by the due date, your offer will lapse and your application will become inactive. When you respond to your offer, you have two main options:

- Make an outright acceptance, deferment or rejection OR
- Conditionally accept your offer so you can be considered for higher preferences in future offer rounds. If you choose this option, you must go back into your QTAC application and put your preferences back into your application.

See more information about responding on the Application Services page on the QTAC website.

If you were ineligible for the courses you applied for, you can change your course preferences for consideration in any subsequent offer-round if further offers are made. QTAC usually publishes remaining course vacancies on its website after a major offer-round. You can also contact QTAC by phone, email or Facebook for advice.

Australian Catholic University

Don't have the prerequisites for primary teaching?

The Diploma of Educational Studies is a great pathway if you do not meet the prerequisites (English or Maths) for entry into an education course. You can complete the Diploma in one year and request a transfer into the desired initial Education course and receive full credit (apart from the unit/s that you did not have as a prerequisite/s). You can read more here about the units you would study. This is a direct application to ACU, which means you do not list it as a QTAC preference. Contact ACU for more information.

Entry schemes/Adjustment factors

These schemes can help you improve your chances of gaining entry to ACU courses through the allocation of adjustment factors. You can be allocated a maximum of 12 adjustment factors. You don't have to submit an application for most entry schemes however, some require a direct application to ACU. Read the information carefully to be sure you meet all entry requirements and application processes.

The available Adjustment factor categories schemes are:

- Year 12 ACU subject program (max 5 points)
- Elite Athlete and Performers Program (EAPP) (depends on level of competition)
- School relationship program (max 5 points)
- Campus program (max 5 points)
- Regional Schools Program (max 5 points)
- State access and equity schemes (apply through QTAC)

You must apply for the following entry schemes through your QTAC application:

- QTAC's Educational Access Scheme
- ACU's Elite Athlete and Performers Program

Face-to-face bridging courses for Semester 1, 2026

If you are concerned you won't meet a prerequisite for your desired UQ program, their Face -to-face bridging courses pathway options offered by UQ College may help. These full-time, four-week intensive courses starting on 24 November, help students complete subject prerequisites in time for the January 2026 QTAC offer round. Bursaries and on-campus accommodation are available for eligible students. Click here for more information and to register.

Guarantee your place at UQ in 2026

UQ offers Guaranteed ATAR entry thresholds across most programs in 2026. This means you may be able to secure an early position in a UQ program based on your ATAR. You'll be able to lock in your position for Semester 1, 2026, if you select a UQ program as your first QTAC preference and meet or exceed the guaranteed ATAR threshold. Some things worth noting:

- This guarantee will be assured for offers up to and including the main offer round in January 2026.
- It will also apply to eligible programs you've listed as lower preferences.
- Entry is always subject to you meeting English standards, prerequisites and any other entry requirements for your selected program.
- The guaranteed ATAR threshold includes adjustment factors (additional points added to your selection rank). UQ offers a range of admission schemes that can increase your selection rank based on special circumstances and subject choices.

Click here to see the full list of degrees within this program including dual degrees.

Multidisciplinary Studies - Diploma of University Studies

UniSQ's Diploma of University Studies is open to everyone over the age of 18 years and is a pathway to a university degree program. An overview:

- Gain a strong foundational knowledge of how to study at university with UniSQ's Diploma of Multidisciplinary Studies.
- Learn study management strategies, gain reflective and analytical skills and enhance your communication and writing abilities.
- Benefit from flexible learning and study core courses online so you can balance work and life commitments. You can progress at your own pace by selecting how many courses to study in each of the three study periods throughout the year.
- Sample a study area of interest by choosing one of eight specialisations. Once you have successfully completed your study (and provided you meet all the entry requirements) you can transfer directly into a UniSQ undergraduate degree to reach your career goals. Your studies can also count as credit toward your undergraduate degree.

Upon completion of this diploma, you can graduate with a university qualification or, if eligible, transfer directly into an undergraduate degree to pursue your career goals. These UniSQ degrees include:

- Bachelor of Business
- Bachelor of Construction (Honours)
- Bachelor of Creative Arts and Community Wellbeing
- Bachelor of Film and Screen Production
- Bachelor of Music
- Bachelor of Theatre
- Bachelor of Visual Art
- Bachelor of Arts
- Bachelor of Engineering (Honours)
- Bachelor of Engineering Technology
- Associate Degree of Engineering
- Bachelor of Science
- Bachelor of Surveying Technology

Worried your child won't get the ATAR they need?

For many High School students, the Australian Tertiary Admission Rank (ATAR) represents their final score after 13 years of School. Whatever the outcome, a student's ATAR represents one pathway to university study. Waiting for the final ATAR score can be nerve wracking. Read the article, Does my ATAR really matter? from USC's Parent Lounge Updates about some suggestions about how you help your child navigate these times.
