

About the service

Early Help Family Service (EHFS) is an early intervention program that provides tailored support to families, meeting their individual needs.

It was established to:

- Support families to be resilient and have safe, supportive, and enduring relationships.
- Assist families to be more connected to and engaged in their culture and communities.

Contact us

EHFS is being run out of the schools and learning centres listed overleaf. These schools and early learning centres can refer to EHFS. Families can also contact MacKillop directly.

MacKillop Family Services acknowledges the Traditional Custodians and their Elders in each of the Communities where we work.

MacKillop celebrates and draws strength from diversity and respects the dignity of all people. We value an inclusive culture where lesbian, gay, bisexual, trans, queer, gender diverse, intersex and asexual people (LGBTIQA+) have the right to be safe.

Early Help Family Service

Who can access the service?

The program is open to families with children who are engaged in any of the following schools or early learning centres:

- Pakenham Consolidated School
- Pakenham Secondary College
- Cardinia Lakes Early Learning Centre
- Gowrie Broadmeadows Valley
- Hume Valley School
- Living and Learning Pakenham
- John Henry Primary School
- Mount Ridley College

How do we help?

EHFS takes an all-inclusive approach to support the health, wellbeing, education and development of children and families. The service works in partnership with universal services to assist families to navigate the health system, increase social connection and build parental confidence.
