THE MOST HOLY BODY AND BLOOD OF CHRIST 6/7 JUNE 2026 | Year A

John 6:53 | 'I tell you most solemnly, if you do not eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you will not have life in you.'

There is something deeply comforting about sharing a meal with others.

Around a table, friendships are strengthened, stories are shared, and people feel they belong. It is no coincidence that Jesus chose a meal as the way He would remain with us forever.

In this Sunday's Gospel, Jesus describes Himself as the "living bread come down from heaven." His words are direct and challenging. He is not speaking symbolically about an idea or a memory. He is offering Himself completely so that His life may become part of ours. Every time we receive Holy Communion, Christ gives Himself to us as nourishment for our journey of faith.

Yet today's Second Reading reminds us that the Eucharist is not only personal; it is communal. St Paul writes that "though there are many of us, we form a single body because we all have a share in this one loaf." The Eucharist does more than unite us with Christ; it unites us with one another.

In a world where people often experience loneliness, division, and isolation, the Eucharist calls us to something different. We gather as individuals with different stories, backgrounds, and struggles, yet we approach the same altar and receive the same Bread of Life. We become one family in Christ.

The challenge for us is to carry what we celebrate into our daily lives. If we receive the Body of Christ, we are also called to be the Body of Christ for others — offering kindness, forgiveness, welcome, and compassion.

As we celebrate the Feast of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ, may we recognise this precious gift anew. May the Eucharist strengthen our relationship with Jesus and deepen our commitment to one another, so that through us, Christ's presence may continue to nourish the world.

In Christ,
Fr Jerald

Why listening matters in the Church

Listening is not a sign of weakness. In the Christian tradition, listening is an act of humility and faith. We believe that God can speak through the experiences, joys, and struggles of His people. Synodality reminds us that listening is a form of love and a path to wisdom.

John 2:5

The Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ - 6/7 June 2026

First Reading: Deut 8:2-3. 14-16

Moses said to the people: 'Remember how the Lord your God led you for forty years in the wilderness, to humble you, to test you and know your inmost heart – whether you would keep his commandments or not. He humbled you, he made you feel hunger, he fed you with manna which neither you nor your fathers had known, to make you understand that man does not live on bread alone but that man lives on everything that comes from the mouth of the Lord.

'Do not then forget the Lord your God who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery: who guided you through this vast and dreadful wilderness, a land of fiery serpents, scorpions, thirst; who in this waterless place brought you water from the hardest rock; who in this wilderness fed you with manna that your fathers had not known.'

Responsorial Psalm 147

Praise the Lord, Jerusalem.

Second Reading:

1 Corinthians 10:16-17

The blessing-cup that we bless is a communion with the blood of Christ, and the bread that we break is a communion with the body of Christ. The fact that there is only one loaf means that, though there are many of us, we form a single body because we all have a share in this one loaf.

Gospel Acclamation:

Alleluia, Alleluia! I am the living bread from heaven, says the Lord; whoever eats this bread will live for ever. Alleluia!

Gospel: John 6:51-58

Jesus said to the Jews:

'I am the living bread which has come down from heaven.

Anyone who eats this bread will live for ever; and the bread that I shall give is my flesh, for the life of the world.'

Then the Jews started arguing with one another: 'How can this man give us his flesh to eat?' they said. Jesus replied:

'I tell you most solemnly, if you do not eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you will not have life in you.

Anyone who does eat my flesh and drink my blood has eternal life, and I shall raise him up on the last day.

For my flesh is real food and my blood is real drink.

He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood lives in me and I live in him.

As I, who am sent by the living Father, myself draw life from the Father, so whoever eats me will draw life from me.

This is the bread come down from heaven; not like the bread our ancestors ate: they are dead, but anyone who eats this bread will live for ever.'

“ Why might Jesus have used the image of such an everyday item as bread to describe himself? ”
