

IT HURTS, Retro - Trex

YouTube Music Video

Hello, I am a proud student of NBC Goldsworthy. I would like to share something that I did for one of my VCE VET Music assignments. We had to write a song from start to finish on a digital audio workstation to demonstrate our understanding on simple song writing. The assignment was to just write a song from start to finish but I took it a whole further step. Mr Stella my Music teacher said that I was the first person to write a song from start to finish, have it recorded and to create a music video. Something that inspired me to take the extra step was to express my creativity in a way that I thought would work well with the music. When I was 12 I use to make LEGO stop motion animations, when I was 14 I use to make leather masks, when I was 16 I use to create things out of wood and write songs. All of those things have inspired me to create this music video and I've always loved filming cool locations. I hope that you guys have enjoyed this little article, feel free to check out the music video on YouTube. Here's the link <https://youtu.be/VrQ6Y4j8lcg> or just search up on YouTube: IT HURTS, Retro – Trex

By Leif Andrew Wellington