Basketball – From the Courts

Laurie's were a tough opposition who made the boys dig deep to win the game. The boys didn't start the game off too well by not capitalising on easy opportunities. Ollie, Ben, Jack and Josh brought out some much-needed energy to start off the second half, with their aggressive defence proving successful. Raf 'the claw' Marufu was terrific on the defensive end not letting a single defender out of his sight. Ethan demonstrated his astounding finishing and ball handling, making the defenders look like traffic cones. Parker who calls himself "The garbage man", did exactly that, doing his council duties by cleaning up the boards. Ollie Suito came up clutch, acting as an Uber driver for the game going Coast to Coast for on several offensive possessions. It was a great team win for the boys, who look to finish off the season with 6 straight wins.

On Friday the boys took to their home court for the first time in a while and dominated with a 69-14 victory over the Laurie's side. Excellent offence and defence were on display, and there's no better example of those two factors than MVP Fletcher Maddox, who exploded in the 4th to break his all-time scoring record. Everybody contributed at both ends of the court. By staying locked in despite the scoreboard, we were able to continue to build our lead and hone our skills for the final round of the season this Friday.

In a remarkable display of teamwork and skill, Marist 6C secured a commanding victory, defeating St. Laurence's College with a resounding 49-3 score. The game, held on our home court, showcased the team's continuous growth and camaraderie. The standout player of the match was undoubtedly Charlie Bradford, whose exceptional passing and selfless plays left those present in awe. Charlie's uncanny ability to create opportunities under the basket made him a true leader on the court, inspiring his teammates to excel. With this triumphant performance, the 6C boys exemplified the essence of unity and sportsmanship, leaving a lasting impression on the court.

In the final game of primary school sport for the boys' time at Marist the 6Ds triumphed over SLC with a dominant 33-5 victory. Teamwork was the name of the game, with every Marist player contributing to the win. The standout performer was Kobe Summers, earning MVP honors for executing well-practiced plays from weeks of training.

Summers' smart decision-making and playmaking abilities stood out. This victory was not just a celebration of their skills but also a fantastic way to cap off their primary school sports journey. Marist's impressive performance solidifies their reputation as a formidable basketball team, leaving a lasting memory of success in their final game.

We knew this season that Laurie's would be the team to beat and going into the game the boys looked motivated to go out and get a win. A couple early baskets from Laurie's saw our boys start to panic and with that came some silly decisions. Overall, the boys played well the game was a lot closer than the scoreboard shows our boys just had trouble stringing together the final piece needed to convert our good play into points. Shoutout to Cam Cleary, he never gave up ran incredibly hard and was a great leader for the boys.

Well fought game but a lack of intensity caused the loss.

A last game loss for the 5C lads against a tough St Laurence's team that had a very high level of basketball skill. Ever dependable MVP Pat Hambleton had his usual good game showing great skills when bringing the ball down to our basket. Fellow MVP Connor Brown worked hard all game at both ends of the court. Excellent rebounding by Toby Watherston and great defence under the hoop by Mason Clarke were also positives to come out of this game. In a difficult season that saw a few big losses, I'm most proud of the resilience shown by the boys in this team, the majority of whom continued to turn up and work hard each week at both training and in games. Thank you for your efforts this season lads. I hope to see you all back playing basketball in Year 6.

The boys were faced with some tough opposition straight from the start. A high number of turnovers resulted in a low scoring game. Despite this the boys dug deep, giving 110% always. Laurie's came back into contention in the last quarter with the result decided in the last thirty seconds.

A top effort by a top bunch of boys!!
